

WHAT I DID FOR THIS WEEK

I don't think I have to do anything more; I am just finishing up the touches if I need to do anything. I think that I have successfully made my page responsive when it comes to the header tabs and the web pages. I didn't add any jQuery plugins because I think that everything in my HTML and CSS code for the webpages for "London.html", "Paris.html", "Tokyo.html", "Dubai.html" and "New York.html." is set up well, and I feel like if I do anything I might mess things up. This has been the case every time I edit my webpages, for some reason.
